

CAMIN REVISITED, DESIGNED BY: PAOLO PIVA / WITTMANN

Camin is the quintessence of living, the ultimate in paring things back to beauty and comfort. Camin comes into its own in situations where the centrepiece of your interior is called on to retain all of its validity for years to come, potentially as part of a changing configuration featuring classics and striking stand-alone pieces. Its intrinsic value is second to none: Camin's height allows it to bring Wittmann Möbelwerkstätten's unique expertise to the fore – the complex and cleverly conceived upholstery. From a sheer comfort point of view, it would not be possible to put any more time and effort into this piece. The unique seating experience strikes the golden ratio between gently sinking in and providing reassuring support. Neither hard nor soft, but just right.

Camin can be used in countless combinations with sofas, chaise longue elements and footrests to create refuges of calm reflection, effortlessly adapting to the needs of whatever space it is placed in: it works in a small and compact arrangement as well as in a breathtakingly generous set up. The seating arrangements shown provide the ideal starting point for a creative approach to materials, particularly when it comes to the various cushions, which can be covered in a choice of colours.

Our living spaces are becoming more and more open all the time, and the sofa can and should be given the space to become a prestigious part of interior style. As a piece that reflects our personality, our sofa should be every bit as versatile as we are. A good sofa accompanies us through every stage of our lives. Camin is predestined to become just such a companion, adding lustre and meaning to our everyday lives as well as, above all, moments of relaxation.

Paolo Piva's classic Camin has been revised and adapted to the requirements of our time. Elegantly floating on skids, in a generous depth, filled with most exclusive materials, now featuring a high pocket spring core in its corpus as well as new elements and accessories made from wood or leather, Camin is ready for its future in living rooms that are modern and incredibly cosy and homely at the same time.
